

The Inaugural Celebration.

This was decidedly a notable occasion in Utah. The demonstrations were so entirely different from anything which has come within the range of our experience here, that it deserves especial notice at our hands as an important event in the history of this Territory.

The day began stormy and disagreeable, but by the hour appointed for the assembling of those who were to take part in the procession and other ceremonies, the weather cleared sufficiently to offer a prospect that the affair might go off without interruption on that account, and with as much comfort to the participants as could well be expected at this inclement season.

The procession was formed on the main street and, at about eleven o'clock, the order to move was given. The long line of carriages followed the lead of the Grand Marshal, S. S. Walker, and his Staff, turning eastward to meet the military from Camp Douglas, already at the place appointed and awaiting the arrival of the immense procession.

The junction having been formed with little delay, the line again moved westward in the order announced in the programme of the day, heretofore published.

The whole procession was about one mile in length, and presented a very imposing appearance. As it moved along the streets, broad and straight, of the Mormon Capital, the sidewalks, wherever it passed, the windows and even the house-tops being thronged by eager, and in some instances, enthusiastic lookers-on. The Bands awoke the wintry echoes with inspiring strains of music, appropriate to the occasion, and, what with the profusion of flags floating from many buildings and ornamenting the teams and sleighs in the procession, or borne by the occupants, the rosettes, streamers, and the thousand-and-one other devices, in all of which red, white and blue, were the prevailing colors, the city wore a gala appearance, which seemed to be participated in by all parties, and it was evidently the determination, on all hands, to make it a day of general rejoicing.

Whenever the procession passed the residence of any prominent official, the bands paid proper compliments by a musical salute. Having traversed all the principal streets of the city, the procession proceeded to Emigrant Square, where a counter-march was made, whereby we were enabled to get a view of the entire procession. We noticed representative detachments, among the citizen soldiery, of the infantry, cavalry and artillery arms, the two latter of which presented a neat and very creditable appearance. Both the eastern and western stage companies had fine turn-outs, elegantly decorated and bearing bannerettes with appropriate devices, among which we noticed the following on that of the western line: "Thank God for our Union victories," and, "The Overland Mail Company—faithful to the Government it serves."

The Young Men's Literary Association was represented by a capacious conveyance, occupied to its fullest capacity, and on one side bearing the portrait of Washington, over which were the familiar words, so descriptive of the Father of his country, "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen." On the opposite side was a portrait of him, who will be scarcely less beloved hereafter, Abraham Lincoln, and between them, held aloft, very appropriately, by an exceedingly dusky American of African descent, was a beautiful lithograph copy of his immortal "Proclamation of Emancipation."

In one sleigh we observed several flags with words like the following:

"Uncle Sam's right hand pocket—Bingham Canyon—Gold, Silver and Copper united." "Give us the Pacific Railroad and we will pay the National debt in ten years," besides other mottoes, which we have forgotten. We saw, among the citizens in the procession, several prominent officials of the Mormon Church, and a number of conveyances overflowing with young humanity, who were themselves in a similar condition of enthusiasm and made the welkin ring with their rejoicings.

Having completed its perambulations, the immense concourse assembled at the stand, prepared for the purpose, in front of the Market, the Provost Guards which had acted as escort, formed in front facing the stage, the citizen companies in their rear, stretching along the street, and the troops from this Post drawn up in four ranks, on the right and all with arms at rest. Around and on all sides, completely filling the streets, covering the roofs and hanging out of the windows, was a dense mass of humanity silent and attentive to the proceedings.

The stand was occupied by Governor Doty, Gen. Connor and Staff, Chief Justice Titus, orator of the day, the reverend Norman McLeod, Chaplain of the day and various of the city authorities and prominent citizens among whom were Mayor Smoot, Hon. Geo. A. Smith, and Capt. Hooper, who delivered the closing address.

Capt. Hempstead opened the ceremonies with some brief and patriotic remarks, and on behalf of the Committee of Arrangements, announced His Excellency, J. Duane Doty, Governor of Utah, as the presiding officer of the day. The Chaplain of the day then delivered an appropriate and impressive prayer, followed by Chief Justice Titus in a most able and exceedingly eloquent oration which we hope soon to lay before our readers in full. Capt. W. H. Hooper then delivered a brief and patriotic address, relating some interesting incidents attending the opening scenes of rebellion at Washington in 1860-1. The Bands discoursed most excellent music in the intervals of the several exercises, and both the oration and address were received by the attentive multitude with rousing cheers and demonstrations of applause.

The Re-union at the City Hall.

At the conclusion of the interesting ceremonies at the stand, the vast concourse dispersed amid rousing cheers and salvos of artillery. The U. S. military forces from Camp Douglas were placed in line, and the citizen cavalry of Great Salt Lake City, under Colonel Burton, escorted them on the road to camp. Afterwards, about four o'clock, Col. George and Staff, of Camp Douglas, were invited to partake of an elegant repast, provided by the City Council at the City Hall. The Mayor presided, and after the cloth was removed, the era of toasts, speeches and good things generally, seemed to have arrived. Mayor Smoot opened the ball by proposing the health of President Lincoln, and success to the armies of the Union. Capt. Hempstead responded at some length and closed by a toast to

"Our hosts, the Mayor and civic authorities of G. S. Lake City."

This was met in most happy style by a toast to General P. E. Connor, Dist. Commander—responded to on behalf of the General by a member of his Staff. Then came the health of "Our guests, Colonel George and Staff," neatly replied to by the Colonel in a patriotic speech, followed by a toast to "the Judiciary, the main-stay of republican institutions." This called out Judge Smith who retorted most admirably and appropriately on "his friends the military, the right arm of the Government." But space precludes us from even giving an abstract of the patriotic sentiments and eloquent speeches which came from all parts of the house. We can only notice a few among them; homage was paid to Grant and the heroes of the Potomac "Sherman and his gallant Soldiers;" "Death and destruction to Jeff. Davis and his traitor crew;" "The American Eagle." "An undivided Country," etc. etc.

We shall not write the speech of Stenhouse in response to the sentiment of "The Press." He wrapped himself several times in the American flag, (rhetorically) took hold of the Bird of our country, soared very high and landed most gracefully on the free soil of Utah.

On the whole, the ceremonies at the City Hall were an appropriate culmination of the day's proceedings. It was free, easy, hospitable and a most kindly interchange of loyal sentiment among gentlemen not wont often to meet over the convivial board. Like the procession, it was a union of the civil and military authorities of Utah, and passed off with eminent satisfaction to all concerned.

Among these present we noticed Mayor Smoot, the members of the City Council, Judge Smith, Judge Clifton, John Taylor, John Sharp, Councillor Woodruff, Geo. Q. Cannon, Col. Burton, Wm. Jennings, Mr. Lawrence and others, Col. George and staff, Maj. O'Neil and a host too numerous to mention in detail. Nearly everybody present responded to a toast most patriotically and frequently most eloquently.

At a late hour the whole party rose and adjourned to meet at the Theater. It was a source of very general regret that General Connor was not present, but as the whole affair was somewhat impromptu, the General was called to camp before the Committee could meet him, and the members of his staff were constrained to respond in his name to the sentiments proposed in his honor.

In the evening, fire-works and general rejoicings testified, to a late hour, the universal feeling, and the day closed after a general and patriotic jubilee rarely, if ever before seen in Utah.

We heard of but one man who evinced a disposition to make "light of the occasion."

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY VEDETTE.]

New York, March 1st.

Letters from Grant's headquarters say, although all is quiet in front of Richmond, active operations are before long looked for. The utmost vigilance is observed in our lines, and the military railroad has been completed to a position on the left of the army of the Potomac to Hatcher's Run, and the trains will commence running regularly on it to day.

On Friday last, 190 rebel deserters came into the armies of the Potomac and James. They report that the Petersburg theater, filled with rebel government stores, has been burned. This is instanced as additional proof of the intention to evacuate that town.

The Herald's St. Louis dispatches report the demoralization in Kirby Smith's army to be equal to that of other rebel armies in various portions of the country and large numbers of deserters from it constantly are coming into the Union lines at Little Rock.

The Tribune's special says: Gen. Joe Johnson assumed command of the forces in front and rear of Sherman on Thursday last. Lee will remain at Richmond and direct the movements from that point, as well as handle his own army for the defence of Richmond.

The papers of Monday are quiet as to Sherman's exact location: It is a matter of doubt whether they really know where his main army is, except that he crossed into North Carolina.

The World's special says: Richmond papers of yesterday maintain that their reserve in respect to military operations in North Carolina, as they are not in an exulting mood, and are quite certain that Sherman has not yet encountered any formidable lion in his path.

Judge Hughes, who accompanied Singleton as far as Grant's lines on his way to Richmond, has returned here. Singleton entered the rebel lines and proceeded to Richmond.

It is generally understood to-day that the nomination of Hugh McCullough as Secretary of the Treasury will be sent to the Senate on Friday, March 3d.

Louisville, Feb. 28th.

Maj. Hamilton's command at Hainsville and Cloverport routed Davison and Magruder's guerrilla bands this morning, and wounded Magruder, captured Davison and fifteen guerrillas, under Wm. Hughes; captured and burned a freight train on the Lebanon Branch Railroad this morning.

Mobile advices to the 6th, indicate that there is no intention to evacuate the City; the garison being strengthened and the force there is said to be much larger than was generally supposed.

Washington 1st.

The Richmond dispatch says Joe Johnson on Thursday evening last assumed command of the army in Sherman's front totally commanded by Beauregard.

The Whig has the following from Charlotte the 6th and Augusta papers of the 20th. No important military movements are reported. Capt. Dickerson captured several officers and a considerable number of enlisted men during the recent Yankee raid into Florida. Gen. N. B. Forrest has been placed in command of all the cavalry in the district of Mississippi, of Louisiana and West Tenn. His first general order promises the reorganization of cavalry with the restoration of the most perfectly disciplined army he threatens to exterminate the confederate stragglers, robbers and deserters. Gen. Thomas' troops are being mounted for a supposed march through Alabama.

Washington 1st.

The Richmond Examiner of the 27th says: Gen. Cooke and Kelly, captured some days since arrived here on Saturday last and were furnished with apartments at the Libby prison.

The Enquirer says that rebel Congress men have become so frightened that they are fleeing from Richmond and that body is without a Quorum.

Washington 1st.

The Senate to-day passed the six hundred million loan bill and confirmed Jno Eckfeldt to be master and refiner of the branch Mint of California.

New York, March 1st.

The Commercial Hatcher's Run correspondent of the 25th says: The order for the army to be ready to move at a moment's notice was countermanded, owing to the storm and after the men had been under arms all night. Fresh orders are however expected.

New York, March 1st.

The steamer Arago reports that when off Charleston harbor on the 26th, they were informed that Columbia, S. C., had been burned, and that Augusta had been captured by our forces.

Washington, March 1st.

The Senate bill in relation to the Pacific railroad was passed to-day. It provides that section two of the act of July, 1864, shall be so modified and amended as to allow the Central Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Pacific Railroad Company of the so called Union Pacific railroad and all other companies provided for in the said act, to issue their six per cent. thirty years bonds, with interest, payable in lawful money of the United States upon their separate roads, and the said companies are hereby authorized to issue respectively their bonds to the extent of one hundred million dollars, and the advance of a continuous completed line from Sacramento. Section second provides that the assignment made by the Central Pacific railroad of California of said state of their right to construct all that portion of the said railroad and telegraph from San Jose to Sacramento, is hereby ratified and confirmed to the Western Pacific railroad company, with all the privileges and benefits of the several acts of Congress relating thereto, and subject to all conditions thereof, provided that the time within which the said Western Pacific railroad company shall be required to construct the first twenty miles of their road shall, on year from the first of July, 1865, and that the entire road shall be completed from San Jose to Sacramento, connecting at the latter point with the said Central Pacific railroad, within four years thereafter.

The Indian appropriation bill has passed, authorizing Indians who have become civilized, to become citizens and settle on public lands under the homestead law.

Portland, Me., Feb. 28th.

By the Moravian, from Liverpool 10th and Londonderry the 12th.

The news from America monopolized attention. Advices that a peace conference was being held, was causing great excitement and depression in funds. Later advices of its failure, caused a reaction.

The rebel steamer Stonewall alias Olinda, was at Tarrol and said to be leaky. She is heavily armed, carrying four guns, none less than 200 pounds, is iron plated four inches thick. There are a number of the Alabama's men among her crew.

Washington 1st.

The following telegram from General Gilmore has been transmitted to this Department: Head Quarters, Department of the South, Charleston 26th. An inspection of the rebel defenses of Charleston show that we have taken over 450 pieces of ordnance being more than double what I first reported. The lot includes eight and ten inch Columbiads, a great many 32 and 42 pounders, some seven inch Brooks' rifled and many pieces of foreign make. We also captured eight locomotives and a great number of passengers and platform cars and all in good condition. Deserters report that the last of Hardee's army was to have crossed the Santee river yesterday bound for Charlotte, N. C. and that it was found that Sherman had already intercepted their march. It was reported on similar authority that the last of Hood's army 12,000 strong, passed through Augusta last Sunday on the way to Beauregard. Georgetown has been evacuated and is in our possession. Deserters are coming in constantly and we have over 400 already.

Signed

GILMORE.

New York, March 2d.

The World has the following additional particulars concerning the reported burning off Columbia. When the Arago appeared off Charleston Bar, a despatch boat met her with the important news which if true, illustrates unparalleled rebel treachery. The officer who brought the intelligence, stated that soon after the corps of Sherman's troops captured Columbia, the rebel citizens there endeavored in every possible manner to harass our troops. The corps which entered the City after its capture at once left to join in Sherman's further advance was succeeded by Slocum. While the latter corps was quietly marching through the principal streets to their temporary barracks, a number of citizens poured a deadly fire upon them from the windows and roofs of the Houses they occupied. An insurrection was beginning to spread when our troops retired a short distance and subsequently fired the City, which is now in ashes. No further particu-

News was received in Charleston that Gen. Sherman had marched in force on Augusta, and the enemy at once evacuated the city. It is also stated that a large amount of rebel property had been captured, and that Sherman, after leaving sufficient force to garrison the city, proceeded on his way northward. The announcement was also made, that Sherman was probably proceeding to the cities of Florence and Charlotte in force, and that he had captured a large quantity of supplies on the route of his march.

The Herald's correspondent says: Columbia was burned by order of Sherman, as a punishment to the citizens for firing on our troops when the city was in our possession.

New York, March 2d.

The Richmond Examiner of the 27th has a long article to prove that the abandonment of Richmond by the rebel government and army, would be the abandonment of the scheme of the independence of the Southern Confederacy.

The Herald's Washington special says: Sheridan has sent a force forward to ascertain if Lee is preparing to fall back to Lynchburg.

Washington, March 2d.

The Richmond Whig of the 28th and the Petersburg Express of yesterday says: Reliable intelligence leads us to believe that on Friday and Saturday night the enemy moved a number of pieces of artillery to his left. The rumbling of their trains was distinctly heard, and the enemy's cavalry, and the main body of his infantry have been moved towards Hatcher's Run.

A message from Gov. Brown of Georgia is published. He defends the state and says the was abandoned to her late, and neglected by the Confederate authorities. He recommends the restoration of the militia system, to be turned over to the confederate government; also recommends impressment of provision from persons who want to sell supplies to indigent families of soldiers. He also recommends a law to punish robbery with death, opposes arming slaves, complains of usurpation of the Confederate Congress, in having a disproportionate tax, charges upon it many abuses; charges all disasters upon the generalship of Jeff Davis, and says the government is a military despotism, drifting into an anarchy, and if persisted in must terminate in the reconstruction with or without subjugation. He opposes conscription and urges the requisition upon states for troops; also urges taking from Davis the power as commander in chief and calls for a convention to amend the Constitution.

Washington, March 2d.

The Navy Department has received information of the capture of the schooner Delia, under English colors near Bay Port, Florida, by the U. S. steamer Mahaska. She had a cargo of pig lead, and some cases of sutures.

Acting Admiral Strybling reports: On the 1st of Feb. the expedition left the U. S. bark Midnight, to destroy the salt works on Western Bay. The expedition returned on the 4th, having destroyed works of 13,615 gallons boiling power, and seventy bushels of salt and 125 barrels of epsom salts.

New York, March 2d.

The Richmond editorials foreshadow the evacuation of that city.

The World's army of the Potomac special says: There is every indication of a panic in Richmond. The old Senators and members of the House are fleeing, until now there is barely a quorum in Congress to transact business. This has been hushed up, but now the Richmond papers openly allude to the fact, and call upon the military authorities to bring back the fugitives by force. A very important movement is now making by Lee, which is believed to be the evacuation of Richmond.

The death of a celebrity, a dwarf, in Paris, the French counterpart of the American Tom Thumb, is recorded. In his sixteenth year he was placed in the establishment of the Duchess of Orleans, the mother of the citizen King, and was so small at that age that he passed for an infant, and so dressed during the stormy period of the first Revolution; secret dispatches were sent by him, which thus reached without suspicion, the imprisoned members of the royal family of France. To the day of his death this dwarf, named Richebourg, received a pension from the Orleans family of 3,000 francs a year, equivalent to $600 of our money. During the last thirty years he has lived in the same house, in the Faubourg St. Germain. Unlike Tom Thumb, he had a horror of appearing in public, and for nearly half a lifetime has never crossed the threshold of his own door. Not the least remarkable feature in the career of this creature, is the fact that he lived to be 92 years old.

The Emperor Maximilian has forbidden the Mexicans wearing any medals or decorations received in their civil strifes, but he allows them to wear the cross received for resistance offered to General Scott and the American army, when it marched up so triumphantly to the capital. Max wishes to keep alive the enmity against the United States, for that is the quarter he has the most apprehension about.

RICH MEN—Among the incomes returned in the Eight District of New York are the following: A. T. Stewart, $1,843,637; Moses Taylor, $573,494; Wm. E. Dodge, $892,717; Phoenix Phillips, $229,864; Wm. Paton, $248,510; Geo. Opdyke, $25,000; C. L. Tiffany, $63,903; A. Belmont, $100,930; Geo. Law, $58,444; W. B. Duncan, $30,000; D. Drew, $101,293.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—In his answer to correspondents, Josh Billings says: "I have red yure peas on 'Wimmins' Rites' thru and thru, and must say I luv it. In my opinyun wimmin has a rite tu dew eny thing well but saw wood; sawing wood aint ther style; speshialli if the saw buck is a hi wun, it must mortifi her, the wust wa."

If you have trouble, keep it to yourself. A jolly fellow can raise a half eagle at any time. A dismal individual, on the contrary, would not negotiate the loan of one and ninepence, if his life depended on it. Be cheerful, therefore, for your own interest.

COAL DISCOVERY.—A mine of bituminous coal was recently discovered in Sinaloa. It is situated near the coast and will be convenient for the P. M. Company's steamers. The quality is said to be equal to that of Bellingham Bay.

THOMAS SIMS, the fugitive slave, about whom there was such a pow-wow in Boston ten years ago, is now a recruiting agent for colored troops in Nashville.

SPRING IMMIGRATION.—The Moctana Post says: By a private letter, we hear that 2,200 teams are ready to start from Omaha with the first good weather.
